What is the Kaufman County Outer Loop?

The Kaufman County Outer Loop project is part of a larger movement toward greater regional connectivity. The Kaufman County Outer Loop is part of a regional loop, connecting Kaufman, Rockwall, Collin and Denton counties.

What is next for the project?

Since the open house in November 2022, the project team has been reviewing public input and incorporating it into our design, refining our alignments, and getting closer to identifying the preferred alignment for the Kaufman County Outer Loop. The project team has continued coordination with the City of Terrell, TxDOT, NCTCOG, local utilities, and the Rockwall County Outer Loop project team.

The map to the right displays the alignments shown at the open house.

Project Schedule

The project team and TxDOT Dallas District do not anticipate that this project will cause significant environmental impacts; therefore a decision to reclassify the environmental document from an EIS to an EA was made. If, during the course of the environmental assessment, significant environmental impacts are identified, the project team and the Dallas District will prepare an environmental impact statement for this project.
